BUSILY ENGAGED.

President Cleveland Preparing His Last Message.

HE WILL REMAIN AT OAK VIEW UNTIL CONGRESS CONVENES.

No callers received except officials on purely public business—Washington to have a new daily which will support the coming administration—Other National News.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—President Cleveland has abandoned the White House for a fortnight, and will remain secluded at Oak View until congress convenes on the 3d of next month. He proposes to devote his entire time to the preparation of his last annual message, and does not want to be interrupted in the work.

He will receive no callers except officials who may call strictly on public business, and his tri-weekly receptions in the east room of the executive mansion will be discontinued until the first week in December.

Booming the Coming Exposition.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Responses to the invitation to the convention of the National Board for the exposition of 1892 to be held December 4 are now coming in from all parts of the country. Governor Lee, of Virginia, says: "I expect to be present," and Governor Thayer, of Nebraska, writes that he will endeavor to be here. The National Grange, at its recent annual meeting, appointed a committee of three to attend the convention. Mayor Smith, of Cincinnati, accepts and will be here. The Italian chamber of commerce, of New York, will send a delegation and the Maritime association, of New York, will be represented by its president.

Hon. J. L. M. Curry, the late minister to Spain; Mayor Latrobe, of Baltimore, and a delegation from the three commercial exchanges of Baltimore, and Mr. Bowen, the treasurer of the American Historical society, will come. The mayor of Richmond and delegates from the commercial exchanges of that city, the mayors of Peoria, Ill.; Fort Worth, Tex.; Hoboken, N. J., and Grand Rapids, Mich., and the chamber of commerce of Staunton, Va.; the Lynchburg Tobacco association; the board of trade of Dubuque, Iowa, and the board of trade of Carbondale, Pa., have been heard from favorably. The state granges of Virginia, Iowa and Vermont will also send representatives.

Around the World.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The Herald's Washington special says: Orders have been issued from the navy department for the new steel cruiser Atlanta, now at the navy yards, New York, to be prepared for a voyage around the world, similar to that taken by the United States steamer Ticonderoga, nearly ten years ago, under the command of Commodore R. W. Shufeldt.

The Atlanta will leave New York about the middle of December, and will go around Cape Horn to Asia. She will not be attached to any squadron, but will have a roving commission.

The Atlanta is one of the best types of the latest improved ships, and it is the object of the navy department in sending her on this cruise to show our flag in remote parts of the world outside the limits of those regularly attached to the different squadrons on foreign service. The Atlanta will be three years on the cruise.

Newspaper to Be Started.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The Herald's Washington special says: A new Republican daily paper to support the administration of Harrison and Morton will be started the first week in December. Mr. E. W. Fox who for the past thirteen years has been United States consul at Brunswick, Germany, having been appointed to that position by President Grant, will be the editor, assisted by his son, William C. Fox.

The new paper has secured quarters at No. 528 Tenth street, adjoining the house where President Lincoln died, new presses and a complete outfit have been ordered. The paper will be started under the auspices of the National Republican league and has a large capital behind it. No name has yet been agreed upon. It will be a four-page sheet.

The West Will Go to Paris.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Lord Sackville and his two daughters intend leaving Washington on Friday for New York, whence they will sail the following day for Paris, where they will be the guests of Mme. Salomon, previous to settling down in their English home.

Notes.

Capt. I. N. Burritt, editor and proprietor of the Sunday Herald, died at Garfield hospital Thursday morning at 1:30 o'clock of cancer of the bladder.

Within a week the syndicate of which William Henry Smith is the representative has made a bid for the morning Post, which was refused by Stilson Hutchins. The amount Mr. Smith was said to have offered Mr. Hutchins was $125,000 cash.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Chamberlain returned from Chevy Chase, Wednesday night, and are now the guests of Secretary and Mrs. Endicott. They will leave to-day for New York, and will sail in La Bourgogne on Saturday for Havre, en route for Paris.

The Wonderful Thirteen.

WHEELING, W. Va., Nov. 23.—There is one feature of the election returns in this state which is worth mentioning. On the face of the returns in the First district Atkinson, Republican, has 13 majority for congress. In the Third McGinnis, Republican, has 13 majority on the face of the returns, and in the Fourth C. B. Smith, Republican, has 13 official majority after the revision of the vote.

Suit Sued for Damages.

TIFFIN, O., Nov. 23.—H. S. Wenner, a well known carriage manufacturer, has brought suit against the city of Tiffin for $5,000 damages for injuries received from a fall on a defective sidewalk. His injuries will cripple him for life.

OHIO'S PENITENTIARY.

Indications Favorable for Its Removal to Mansfield.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 23.—The sub-committee, consisting of Senator Kerr, of Richland; Representatives Kitchen, of Vinton and McCray, of Ashland, of the joint legislative committee appointed last winter to consider the advisability of removing the Ohio penitentiary to Mansfield, have struck a rich find that, when known, will startle the people of the state. They have adjourned to meet at Mansfield, December 3, where the committee will report by a vote of four to one in favor of a removal.

They find that it is impossible to remodel the old cells in the penitentiary here, or to make two cells into one, and otherwise rebuild the institution to conform to the public wants, without an outlay that would not be justifiable. Besides, they find the buildings and land here can be sold for $1,000,000 to a manufacturing syndicate, and that only $300,000 is required at Mansfield to convert the new intermediate penitentiary there into a prison, capable of holding 2,200 convicts, which leaves a surplus of $400,000 to be turned over to the state treasurer.

Again the committee found the sanitary condition of the penitentiary here was the most horrible in the United States and unfit to surround even the vilest murderers. One half of the inmates contract consumption or malaria diseases from the dirty waters and miasmatic sewer influences adjacent to the penitentiary.

One of the sub-committee told your correspondent that their report in favor of the removal would meet with bitter opposition when presented to the legislature, but would carry when all the facts were known; that the Columbus prison was a wretched den of rotteness to the state and to the prisoners; that a penitentiary at Mansfield would mean better health to the prisoners and a saving annually of tens of thousands of dollars to the tax-payers.

Said another committeeman: "Mansfield is the best location in the state for the penitentiary and it will be removed there. The Hamilton, Cuyahoga, Lucas and Montgomery delegations are for it, and next winter Columbus will lose it and in less than ten months where has been the vilest prison in the Union will be found the home of a large manufacturing industry, and the whole state will rejoice."

THE K. OF L. ELECTION.

Names Mentioned for the High Offices in the Organization.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 23.—The question of elections still agitates the minds of the delegates of the Knights of Labor general assembly. Every one now acknowledges the certainty of Powderly's re-election, and his choice for other positions will be the choice of the convention.

John W. Hayes, present general secretary, is said to be Powderly's choice for general secretary-treasurer, and although Fred Turner, general treasurer, is a candidate, and is deservedly popular, Mr. Hayes stands the best chance. Mrs. L. M. Barry will undoubtedly be re-elected to her position in charge of woman's work, and if he wishes it, Richard Griffiths, of Chicago, may continue to serve as general worthy foreman.

Mr. Powderly's nomination for members of the general executive board cannot be so readily predicted.

McGuire of Aylsworth, of the present board, and O'Reilly, of New York, and Hugh Cavanaugh, of Cincinnati, have been considered liable to be selected.

A secondary matter of agitation is the next place of meeting. Toronto has a formal invitation for the next meeting, which was adopted Monday evening at the meeting of the municipal council, and it is favorably regarded by many delegates.

Ohio would like to have it, Toledo being the place chosen, and almost any place in the south is the way the delegates from that section put it.

At the rate matters have gone thus far a prolonged convention is probable, although the general assembly might refer unfinished business to the board and adjourn immediately after the selection of officers.

HARRISON'S ADVISERS.

Several Names Mentioned for Positions in the Next Cabinet.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—There is much talk about Mr. Clarkson, of Iowa, going into the cabinet. He is looked upon as at the head of political affairs in Iowa now. If Mr. Allison should go into the treasury department, that would, of course, leave Mr. Clarkson out of the contest. There would then be an opening much more to his liking, the seat vacated in the Senate by Mr. Allison.

Otto would like to have it, Toledo being the place chosen, and almost any place in the south is the way the delegates from that section put it.

At the rate matters have gone thus far a prolonged convention is probable, although the general assembly might refer unfinished business to the board and adjourn immediately after the selection of officers.

MORMON ELTERS.

Despite the Law They Continue to Preach in the South.

THE RECORD FOR TEN MONTHS WORK IN TENNESSEE.

Over Fifteen Hundred Converts from the Vicinity of Chattanooga Have Been Induced to Emigrate to Utah Within That Time—the Poor Mountaineers Easily Persuaded.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Nov. 23.—For three years the Mormon elders have been working Tennessee, northern Alabama and western Virginia for the purpose of proselyting the people to the Mormon faith. Two years ago in middle Tennessee two of these elders were killed outright and to this day their murderers have never been prosecuted.

Although there is a law in Tennessee prohibiting Mormon elders from openly advocating the Mormon doctrines, yet they have increased their force so that they make it a business to visit families in person, and persuade them to accept the Mormon faith. In Chattanooga there are now two elders permanently located, who have charge of a large field.

The preliminary work at this point was done by Elder Morgan, one of the brightest debaters in the Mormon church, who made his headquarters in this city for over a year. Having planted the seed, he then sent Elders Perry and Stoker to this point and have since had charge of the field. They have established a regular preaching point near St. Elmo, one of the suburbs of the city, and have quite a large congregation.

Tuesday 500 converts assembled in this city from all parts of the central south, the larger portion of them coming from the mountains of east Tennessee and Virginia, and were taken to Utah by Elder Perry. The prolific field for most of the Mormon elders is in the mountainous districts.

The native mountaineer is usually poor, and when he hears of the great possibilities for an easy and happy life in Utah, it does not take long to convert him to the Mormon faith. The women especially are easily persuaded. When once convinced that Mormonism is right, they cannot be turned aside from their purpose to seek a home in the far west.

The Mormon elders have made over one thousand five hundred converts in this immediate vicinity within the past ten months, and have their work so well systematized at the present that about every sixty days they take from two hundred to five hundred people to Salt Lake as the results of their labors.

A BRIDG-GROOM'S DEATH.

He Leaps Into a Raging Flood to Save His Wife—She is Rescued.

WHEELING, W. Va., Nov. 23.—Patricia Waters was married at St. George, Tuesday, to a charming young lady of that town. Wednesday morning they started to cross the unfinished railroad bridge at Schaffer's Fork. When about half way over Mrs. Waters became dizzy, and, losing her balance, fell into the river.

The stream is very high, and the current, always extremely violent, was running about twenty miles an hour. Waters plunged into the river after his bride, and succeeded in reaching her. Grasping her in his arms, he attempted to reach the shore, but he could make no headway against the violent current, and was borne rapidly away.

The heads of the half drowned people were seen occasionally as they bobbed above the waves. Half a mile below the bridge at Silas ferry, the boat was in mid-stream as Waters and his wife came along, and they were rescued after unremitting exertions, extending over half an hour.

MISSISSIPPI. — Cardinal Gibbons' Thanksgiving.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 23.—Cardinal Gibbons has addressed a circular to the clergy of the archdiocese of Baltimore, calling attention to the Thanksgiving Day proclamation of the president, and directing that the prayer for the authorities be read after the late mass in each church on the day appointed. The circular alludes to the temporal prosperity and good order which prevail throughout the country, the mysterious dispensations of God as exemplified by the yellow fever pestilence in the south and the peaceful end of the great political contest, and urges the faithful to assist in thanksgiving.

Anti-Saloon Republicans.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The anti-saloon Republican National committee, after discussing plans for future campaign work, appointed a sub-committee consisting of ex-Senator Windom, H. C. Metcalfe, of Rhode Island; Frank Moss, of New York; A. P. Miller of the Mail and Express, and Albert Griffin, of Kansas, to report a plan to the full committee at a meeting next Tuesday.

Yellow Fever Report.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Surgeon Hutton, of Camp Perry, telegraphs: "Eight new cases of yellow fever at Enterprise. Place is in distress and want physicians. Please see if Miss Barton will allow Dr. Gill, now here, to go there. He is willing and the only physician available."

Gainesville, Fla., reports two new cases of yellow fever, both colored.

Surgeon Ross telegraphs from Fernandina: "One new case of yellow fever reported in the last twenty-four hours. Careful analysis of status showed four cases of fever under treatment in Fernandina, Wednesday. On no day since my arrival here has total number of cases under treatment been so small. Yellow fever prevalent about exhausted."

The morning report from Camp Perry is as follows: Present officers, five; guards, five; employees, twenty-eight; refugees arrived, seven; discharged, two; remaining, in fever camp, one.

DAILY EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & McCARTHY,

FRIDAY EVE., NOV. 23, 1888.

It is estimated the prohibitionists polled 5,000 votes in Kentucky at the late election.

KENTUCKY's population at present is estimated at nearly 2,100,000, an increase of about 500,000 since 1880.

THE Owen County Democrat has suspended. Its owner and editor was lately appointed State Librarian, which may account for the suspension.

Ex-CONGRESSMAN PHIL. THOMPSON, of this State seems to be making a success at the practice of law in New York. He has just recovered a judgement against the Nickerbocker Ice Company for a fee of $10,000, the amount claimed, and an allowance of 2½ per cent. extra as trimmings.

Two hundred negroes of Lexington, have sent on applications for pensions, it is stated, within the past four or five days. It's very evident the incredulous colored man has been basely imposed on by some Republican politician with promises that in most instances will never be realized.

So Maysville wants two Representatives! Why any county wants to increase her stock of Representatives is passing strange. Most counties are sorry that they have one, instead of bankerizing after two. Take Louisville, for instance. Who would want her Representatives?—Lexington Press.

The more the merrier, and with two such positions to be filled it won't take so long for the honors to go 'round among the crop of aspirants. Don't you see? And "two heads are better than one." But seriously Maysville is not going to trouble herself much over the matter.

The Maysville Republican didn't say a word in its last issue about the Hall Safe and Lock Company, of Cincinnati, discharging a number of their hands. But it did say a good deal about a slight increase of wages granted the employees principally in some Pennsylvania iron industries, and, of course, attributed the increase to Harrison's election.

The men who were discharged by the lock company referred to were fired out because they objected to a reduction of wages. The wages of the wood-workers, were cut 15 per cent, and of the fillers 30 per cent. The men claim that many of them acted upon the advice of the firm and voted for Harrison and Morton that wages might be maintained. But here in less than a month after the election the hypocrisy of the employers is exposed by a reduction of wages of nearly one-third in some branches of their establishment.

If the increase noted by our contemporary was due to Harrison's election, to what must this reduction be attributed? Will the Republican please answer?

Kentucky's Vote.

In 1884, Cleveland polled about 153,000 votes in this State. At the recent election his vote amounted to about 183,000—an increase in four years of about 30,000.

Blaine's vote four years ago in Kentucky was a little more than 118,000. This year Harrison polled a little less than 155,000—an increase of about 37,000.

The vote of the two parties is the largest ever cast in the State. The Democratic increase would undoubtedly have been much larger had there been a warm fight for Congressman in all the districts. In the First and Second, —strongholds of the party—the Democratic vote shows but little increase. Their nominees were certain of election, and there was probably no special effort to get out a full vote.

The Republicans make their heaviest gains in the mountain counties of the Tenth district—a district where there are more pauper counties perhaps than in any other section in the State.

Had there been a determined fight all around at the late election the Democratic vote would no doubt have reached 200,000.

Return Thanks.

Governor Buckner has issued the following proclamation:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
FRANKFORT, KY., November 21, 1888.

It having become a custom sanctioned by frequent observance for the people of the Commonwealth to devote a particular day to the duty of giving thanks to the Supreme Being for the benefits conferred upon mankind, now, therefore, I, S. B. Buckner, Governor of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, do hereby designate Thursday, the 29th day of November, to be set apart to be observed in such manner as each individual may deem appropriate as a day of thanksgiving to the Creator of the universe for blessings we have received at His hands. In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the great seal of the Commonwealth to be affixed. Done at Frankfort the 21st day of November, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight, and in the ninety-seventh year of the Commonwealth. By the Governor,

GEORGE M. ADAMS,
Secretary of State.

More Light.

Editor Bulletin—Our city is again in the throes of the light question and the success that the electric light company is meeting with seems to guarantee for Maysville a competing institution at an early date.

The lately re-organized gas company have, it appears from their action of yesterday in circularizing the city, "woke up" to the fact, apparent to others, that the citizens are dissatisfied with the high prices and meters, or both.

The statement advanced by the gas company that they contemplate installing an electric light plant is considered on the streets as only an effort to gain time and throttle in its birth this new "infant industry."

Our business men can by a combined effort make a second and successful attempt to keep our local "monopoly" in bounds.

PARIS will pay a gas company $3,300 this year for lighting her streets. An electric light company offered to do the lighting for $1,200 per year less than the gas company, and to furnish not less than 20,000 candle power, while the gas lights amounted to only 2,176 candle power.

At the Erdenheim sale of thoroughbreds in Pennsylvania, 68 stallions and 44 brood mares brought $49,475.

Its Delicacy of Flavor
and the efficacy of its action have rendered fruit remedy, Syrup of Figs, immensely popular. It cleanses and tones up the clogged and feverish system, and dispels headaches, colds and fevers. For sale in 50 cent and $1 bottles.

STRIKING RESEMBLANCE

The Fellow That Looks Like Congressman-Elect Thomas H. Paynter.

HEN. Thomas H. Paynter, the Democratic Congressman-elect from this district, had some business with the last Legislature connected with the new railroad. The Louisville Post says that he stopped at the Capital Hotel, where boarded Dr. Hume, a well-known physician of that city. Both are large, fine-looking men, and so striking is the resemblance between them that Mr. Paynter was constantly being taken for Dr. Hume, who was, of course, the better known in Frankfort. One day at dinner Mr. Paynter sat opposite to a party of State Senators who nodded across the table to whom all took to be Dr. Hume. He returned the salute, but continued his repast without entering into a conversation. Something distant in his manner arrested the attention of one of the Senators, who began to study the face opposite him. He finally discovered that it was a case of mistaken identity, but so entirely natural that the Senator was constrained to say something about it, and addressing Mr. Paynter said: "Excuse me, but I'd like to ask you just one question—aren't you a brother of Dr. Hume?" "No," replied Mr. Paynter, "but we must be very much alike, for almost everyone is mistaking me for him. I would like very much to see him." They did meet afterwards and formed quite an attachment for each other. Strange as it may seem, each felt complimented at having been taken for the other.

The Revival.

There were two additions to the M. E. Church, South, last night. The crowd present was the largest in attendance so far during the meeting. The discourse was an able and eloquent one, the text being taken from the first verse of the eighth chapter of Daniel: "But Daniel purposed in his heart that he would not defile himself." The sermon was intended for the young men and a large number were present.

A Solar Eclipse Will Usher in the New Year.

An exchange says that New Year's day, 1889, will be ushered in with more than the customary eclat. In addition to the usual terrestrial attractions of turkey and trimmings, the celestial feature of the day will be a total eclipse of the sun, visible mainly on the Pacific coast, but partial throughout the entire United States.

A total eclipse of the sun, visible in the United States, is an unusual occurrence. Throughout the West, California, Dakota and Nebraska, the path in which the phase of totality will be visible, is not more than 120 miles wide. As though gotten up specially for the occasion, the eclipse will strike our western coast-line about the location of the great Lick observatory, where very elaborate preparations are being made for observations. The point of contact in the far West will be shortly after noon. It will be partial in this part of the country later on in the day.

American orchardists must soon meet the competition in English markets of apple-growers in Australia and Tasmania. The imports of choice apples from these latter points are already increased to such an extent as to affect British fruit-growers.

An English commercial statistician, Sir John B. Lawes, puts the 1888 wheat yield in the British Isles at 26½ bushels per acre, aggregating 72,000,000 bushels. The market supply, after reserving 12,000,000 bushels for seedling 7,000,000 acres, is 66,000,000 bushels, leaving necessary to be imported 148,000,000 in twelve months. The American farmer ought to supply a big part of this 148,000,000 bushels.

FORGERY ON A FARMER.

Two Slick Young Men Come to Grief at Ripley—Details of the Case.

One evening this week there arrived at Ripley a couple of well-dressed young men. They spent the night at one of the hotels, and the next morning made their way to the Ripley National Bank, where they made known their business to the cashier, Mr. Galbraith. They had a note for $125 on Nelson Waterman, an old farmer living near Georgetown, and they wanted to sell it. Something aroused Mr. Galbraith's suspicions. On examination he concluded the signature to the note was not right, and declined to buy the paper.

The authorities were informed of the occurrence, and the parties were arrested. Failing to give a satisfactory account of themselves they were locked up. The old farmer was then hunted up and produced the note a forgery. At the examining trial both the accused were held over to court, their bail being fixed at $1,000. They gave their names as John Edmunds, of New York, and Harry Butcher, of Louisville.

DURING the recent Republican jollification at Georgetown, Ky., the procession was egged, and the eggs used were not fresh, either.

THE steamer H. F. Frisbie passed down for the South this week with eighteen barges of produce and 1,200 tons of tile. The Enquirer says: "The tow, when made up, covered several acres, and presented a remarkable sight, as all the produce-boats had living rooms built on top, and were occupied by men, women and children, with the usual accompaniment of cats and dogs."

THE administrator's sale of Hechinger & Co.'s entire stock will begin to-morrow, the 24th of November. It is claimed by good business men, and especially by the appraisers, that considering the enormous quantity of goods the house carries, that is the cleanest and most elegant stock they ever saw. As the sale of the entire stock is imperative, rare bargains will be secured.

J. M. HUFF, formerly of this county, but now editor and owner of the Ashland Republican, has been sued for damages by William McGarvey. About a year ago McGarvey, while at work in the Republican office, was overcome by a fit, and was laid on the floor near a door. The door was left ajar to give him air, and after he had somewhat recovered he started outside and pitched headlong from the platform, falling a distance of about twenty feet. He was laid up for several months, but sustained no permanent injuries. He is now all right again, but his family think they are entitled to damages, and will endeavor to secure some at the December term of court.

"Skipped by the Light of the Moon."

On next Monday evening, the 26th inst., Fowler and Warmington's company of comedians are to appear at the opera house in the funniest of farcical comedies, "Skipped by the Light of the Moon," a play that has, for the past three seasons filled the largest theatres in all the principal cities of America, from New York to San Francisco, creating a perfect furor wherever it has been presented. Of this famous comedy the New York Journal says:

"...skipped by the Light of the Moon" made an enormous success last night at the Fifth Avenue Theatre. We have never had anything so out of the common rut of comedy; the laughter begins two minutes after the curtain raises, and does not stop until it falls upon the third and last act. It is the sort of production that all New York will rush to see, and the theatre may feel certain of business such as it has only known once before this season. "Skipped by the Light of the Moon" will simply last as long as there is a laugh in New York. It eclipses all former unny plays seen in this city for years."

Railroad Notes.

The Louisville Southern announces that construction will continue on its lines all winter.

Monday, December 3rd, is about the date the M. & B. S. will be turned over to the company and opened for traffic all along the route.

We understand that a special train containing the conductors and eng'ners for the new road, will leave Cincinnati for Huntington Sunday, over the Maysville and Big Sandy Railroad, for the purpose of becoming acquainted with the new route.—Dover News.

The Louisville and Nashville road proposes to beat the record of the world-famed British train, the "Flying Norwester," which goes the run from London to Edinburg (400 miles) in seven hours and ten minutes. The "Flying Razor Back" of the L. & N. is their fast Gulf and Atlantic express, and will run from Pensacola to Chipley, the West Florida Highlands (110 miles) in two hours, including one stop, making the actual running time sixty miles an hour.—Exchange.

The Ashland Republican says: "We have been informed that when the new schedule goes into effect on the C. & O. system, the train that runs from Huntington to Olive Hill will be put on the Maysville and Big Sandy Railroad, to run from Huntington to Cincinnati, and that all trains of this road will extend their trips to Huntington instead of laying over in this city. The new schedule is expected to go into effect on the 2nd prox."

The Republican also states that "the Chesapeake and Ohio Valley road will run vestibule coaches between Huntington, W. Va., and Covington, Ky., when the M. & B. S. is completed to the latter named place."

ANOTHER LETTER

Received By the London Police
Signed "Jack, the Ripper."

"WHEN I HAVE DONE ANOTHER YOU CAN CATCH ME."

The Trustworthy Character of the Guardians of the Franco-German Frontier Have Saved the Two Countries From Serious Differences—Other Foreign News Notes.

LONDON, Nov. 23.—It is now fairly settled in the opinion of Scotland Yard that the man who attempted to cut the throat of a woman in the Whitechapel district was not the murderous fiend who has baffled the police so long. It turns out to have been a drunken quarrel between the woman and man, who have associated together for a year. The wonder is that the fellow escaped in broad daylight in a locality supposed to be efficiently patrolled and guarded by both police and law and order citizens.

A London sensation is another letter from "Jack the Ripper," addressed from Portsmouth. It is in the same handwriting as its predecessors, and reads as follows:

"DEAR BOSS—It is no use for you to look for me in London because I am not there. Don't trouble yourself about me until I return, which will not be very long. I like the work too well to leave it long. Oh, it was such a jolly job, the last one. I had plenty of time to do it properly. Ha, ha! The next lot I mean to do with a vengeance, and cut off their hands and arms. You think it is a man with a black mustache. Ha, ha, ha! When I have done another you can catch me. So good-by, dear boss, till I return. Yours, JACK THE RIPPER."

Of course there is no assurance that the man who writes these letters is the real fiend and not a grim joker. Opinion is very much divided upon that question.

Alsace-Lorraine.

LONDON, Nov. 23.—If the French and German guardians of their respective frontiers were not especially trustworthy men the two countries would have been involved in the most serious differences long since. French youth of a sporting turn gain cheap notoriety and the admiration of their comrades by poaching across the border and bringing back a few birds or hares at the risk of being potted themselves by the warders of the annexed territory. When a conscription takes place the lot of the unlucky young men, who naturally are doubly resentful at having, possibly at no distant day, to serve against those to whom they are bound by all natural ties, is bewailed by their friends and relatives whose grief results in violent scenes sometimes, and more serious riots have been often averted only by the fact that the German officers have wisely used a force against which it would have been folly to contend.

The conquerors profess to be satisfied with their progress in Germanizing the new provinces and of course the French proclaim that they are more loyal to their old affiliations than ever. Travelers who have encountered the restrictions to which the Teutons have subjected those who desire to pass through Alsace and Lorraine, feel no particular love for the overbearing officials who have caused them so much vexation and delay, but they nearly all state that, judging by what they have seen in the larger places, the Germans appear to have gained wonderfully within the last few years, and that all the trade is falling into their hands gradually. This may be more apparent than real, however, owing to the regulations compelling business signs, etc., to be in the German language.

One thing is certain; the number of young men who have failed to answer the summons requiring them to report at German head-quarters is annually increasing again, much to the anger of the military authorities. The most energetic and enterprising are naturally the ones who withdraw from the glorious opportunity to qualify themselves for the shambles of their conquerors, and it is a question whether those whom circumstances compel to remain will be an element of strength or weakness in the service which they have been forced to embrace.

During the last decade the emigrants from Alsace-Lorraine have outnumbered the German settlers by about ten thousand, but these latter, it is claimed, are by far more prolific, the birth rate of the provinces having increased to a noticeable extent during the last fifteen years. It is granted that illiteracy has decreased, the German laws regarding the education of children in the manufacturing districts being very strict.

Willing to Fight.

BERLIN, Nov. 23.—It is reported that 200 Alsatian recruits from Colmar, Thann and Mulhouse attacked their military escort and wounded a Prussian soldier. The mutineers are said to have taken refuge in Switzerland. Wholesale arrests of other recruits are said to have been made. It is also stated that four Prussian officers were assaulted and seriously injured by French sympathizers at Strasburg.

It is reported that the entire plan of the blockade has been changed in order to include the whole coast."

New Enterprises in the South.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 23.—Special reports to the Manufacturers' Record show many very extensive enterprises have been put on foot in the past week throughout the south. The Birmingham Mineral railroad has added $300,000 to its capital for extensions and additional rolling stock. A railroad will be built between Montgomery and Anniston. A new one-hundred-ton furnace is commenced at Birmingham by the Thomas iron people of Pennsylvania. Contracts have been closed for thirty miles of piping to convey natural gas to Louisville. The development has begun of 156,000 acres of eastern Kentucky coal land. Richmond, Va., is to have an extensive spike mill and a rolling mill completed. ### A Dinner in Siam.

Miss Fleeson, of Pittsburgh, now missionary out in Siam, had the honor lately to dine with the king and queen of that country, in their new and splendid summer palace. The ceremony began with the washing of all hands in perfumed waters, held in silver bowls, after which a golden chest of betel, the Siamese equivalent for tobacco and chewing gum, was passed around—but the use of it was not de rigueur, and the foreigners were given tea in place of the fiery quid. The dinner, which was served in the most exquisite of china, glass and silver, came on in twenty courses, and after it his majesty, who was garbed in pure white, with gold and purple trimmings, had his prize acrobats and jugglers perform upon a platform below the dining hall, for the amusement of the guests.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

Bridal Veil and Flowers.

The bridal veil is of eastern origin, and among the Anglo-Saxons it was held over the heads of both bride and groom. The orange blossom is the emblem of purity and truth, although in some portions of France the bride is crowned with a myrtle wreath, which is transferred to her hand when she is blindfolded, and the bridesmaids dance about her while she seeks to place the wreath on one of their heads. The one so crowned, it is said, will herself be a bride within the following year. An old superstition prevails to the effect that all pins used in fastening the bridal veil and flowers must be thrown away or ill fortune will come to the bride. How many must have neglected to do this.—Chicago Herald.

The Postage on Newspapers.

Some people are under the impression that newspapers, no matter what their weight is, go for one cent each. This is not correct. The rate on newspapers and other publications regularly entered as second class matter, when mailed as transient, is one cent for every four ounces or fraction thereof. Others will wrap the paper so tightly that it will not slide out. Some fasten the wrapper to the paper with mucilage so it can not slide out. All matter except first class must be prepared to admit of easy and thorough examination.—Stamp Clerk in Globe-Democrat.

Utilizing the African Elephant.

In Petermann's Mitteilungen Herr J. Menges raises once more the question of the possibility of utilizing the African elephant. Herr Menges points out that there is strong evidence that the elephant was used in ancient times in Africa, and asserts that no serious attempt has been made in modern times to subdue it to the uses of humanity. He maintains that it is quite as docile as the Indian elephant and much stronger, and that if it could be really tamed and trained to work it would be of immense utility in the opening of Africa.—Boston Transcript.

The First Battle Photograph.

M. Brady, the Washington photographer, was the first to take the camera on a battlefield in the late civil war. He pitched his tripod first at the battle of Bull Run, and he continued throughout the war to make these important pictures. The "instantaneous" process was not known in those days or we might have had photographs of the bullet and the bombshell "in motion."—Harper's Bazaar.

Delays in duty are dangerous, but delays in purchases and in borrowing trouble and in borrowing money, may be otherwise.—Bar-Haman.

A Crank After Harrison.

SHELBYVILLE, Ind., Nov. 23.—A man giving his name as James Brookbanks, said to be from Greensburg, was arrested Tuesday night and locked up for safe keeping. He had $15 in money and a bank book showing $1,552 to his credit. He claimed that the United States government owed him $40,000, and that Harrison would never reach the White House if the debt was not paid.

Quarreling Over a Lottery Prize.

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—An injunction was granted last night restraining the Adams Express company from paying $15,000 to Edward Curtin won on the Louisville lottery ticket. Curtin agreed with a man named Keating, who also held a ticket, that each should divide whatever was drawn. He refuses to comply with the agreement.

The National Grange.

TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 23.—At the meeting of the National Grange, Wednesday, Col. Joseph H. Brigham, of Ohio, was elected grand master, and Leonard Rhone, of Pennsylvania, was selected to fill the vacancy on the executive committee. A resolution was passed recommending congress to appropriate money for a deep water harbor on the northwest coast of the Gulf of Mexico.
